

Miles Senior
Credit Risk Analyst

Miles Senior is an analyst in the Credit Risk Management Department at the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland. His responsibilities include monitoring and reducing payment system risk in the Fourth Federal Reserve District. As a team lead for the Paycheck Protection Program Liquidity Facility (PPPLF) he helps facilitate providing access to liquidity to depository institutions in the fourth district and community development financial institutions across the country. Mr. Senior serves as a co-chair for the Strengthening Talented African-American Resources employee resource network group which brings diversity centered programming to the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland. Mr. Senior hold a B.S. from Miami University of Ohio.