

Jamie Rice
Managing Director, Single-Family Programs
Kentucky Housing Corporation

Jaime Rice, managing director of the Single-Family programs for homeownership opportunities, has served the Corporation for 19 years. She currently leads the team that provides mortgage loans through affordable financing to eligible Kentuckians. Formerly, she served as assistant director of Single-Family Programs, which included oversight of Kentucky Housing Corporation's (KHC) lender portal and loan reservation system. Jaime began her tenure with KHC as a loan processor in a satellite office located in Hazard, Kentucky. From there, she became a trainer/lender liaison as the regional account manager and later became the manager over housing education and counseling.

Jaime earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in History with minor in English from Alice Lloyd College.
